QUESTION: Who were Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini?

ANSWER: Austrian Adolf Hitler (1889-1945) and Italian Benito Mussolini (1883-1945) were Roman Catholic dictators of the World War II era. Hitler and Mussolini were placed into power by powerful and influential Roman Catholics in Germany and Italy, respectively.

Adolf Hitler was born in Austria in 1889, and allegedly committed suicide in 1945. (According to Eric Jon Phelps, author of “Vatican Assassins”, Hitler’s suicide was faked by murdering his double, Herr Sillip.) German Roman Catholic Knight of Malta Franz von Papen was one of the top players involved in putting Hitler into power. The German Roman Catholic Center Party’s endorsement of, and unanimous vote for, the Enabling Act of March 1933 was crucial, giving Hitler the 2/3s majority vote in the German Reichstag (Parliament) that he needed to assume dictatorial powers. (Roman Catholic Monsignor Ludwig Kaas, the leader of Germany’s Roman Catholic Center Party, had ordered members of his party to endorse the Enabling Act. Monsignor Kaas was a very close confidant of Eugenio Pacelli – who would later become Pope Pius XII.) Shortly thereafter, Hitler signed a concordat with the Vatican in 1933. Hitler said this about the Jesuits and the Roman Catholic Church: “Above all I have learned from the Jesuits. And so did Lenin too, as far as I recall. The world has never known anything quite so splendid as the hierarchical structure of the [Ed.: Roman] Catholic Church. There were quite a few things I simply appropriated from the Jesuits for the use of the [Ed.: Nazi] Party.”

Dave Hunt, on page 265 of his book, “A Woman Rides the Beast”, tells us: “The approval of Hitler by [Ed.: Roman] Catholic prelates and their statements about ‘freeing the world from the Jews’ seem shocking. Yet they only reflect [Ed.: Roman] Catholicism’s historic treatment of the Jews. Hitler justified his ‘final solution’ by pointing out that the [Ed.: Roman Catholic] Church had oppressed and killed Jews for centuries.”

Benito Mussolini was born in 1883, and was executed in 1945. This Roman Catholic Fascist dictator was the prime minister of Italy from 1922 through 1943. Roman Catholic Jesuit Don Luigi Sturzo, who was chief of the Catholic Party in Italy, helped to place Mussolini into power. One of Mussolini’s top advisers was a Roman Catholic Jesuit priest named Pietro Tacchi-Venturi, whom Mussolini frequently consulted. Pope Pius XI and Mussolini signed the Lateran Treaty in 1929. In this concordat, Mussolini received the support he needed from the Roman Catholic Church-State – and from the Italian Roman Catholic hierarchy – to secure and maintain his power base in Italy. In return, Roman Catholicism was once again made the official “State religion” in Italy. (According to author Dave Hunt, one of the provisions of this Papal concordat was that criticism of Roman Catholicism in Italy was made a penal offense! According to Hunt, the Roman Catholic Church was also given “a vast sum in cash and bonds” by the Italian government.)

Despite their numerous “crimes against humanity”, neither Adolf Hitler nor Benito Mussolini were ever excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church! (Why didn’t the Roman Catholic Church excommunicate these two Roman Catholic monsters – men who were responsible for the deaths of millions of human beings?)
